

SA Police Legacy is proud to be a part of the wider Police Legacy family

The Police Legacy Daisy is inspired by the Michaelmas Daisy. It is the flower of St Michael, the patron saint of police who protects those who have sworn to serve. With the Police Legacy Daisy we honour those who currently serve our community and remember those who are no longer with us.

Speakers

National Police Legacy Day

On 17 June 2025, we will celebrate the inaugural National Police Legacy Day. This is a new annual occasion to honour the vital work of Police Legacy organisations across Australia.

Why 17 June?

This date marks the founding of the first Police Legacy organisation in Australia – Queensland Police Legacy – on 17 June 1971.

About Police Legacy

Every state and territory in Australia has a dedicated not-for-profit Police Legacy organisation, providing vital support to police officers and their families.

How you can get involved

There are several initiatives taking place across Adelaide today in support of Police Legacy. Show your support by wearing your Police Legacy Daisy pin, purchasing additional pins from participating Drakes Supermarkets and Police Credit Union branches, or by buying purple Police Legacy flowers at select florists*. You can also explore the city as landmarks light up in blue tonight, and remember to share your support on social media.

**see our website for a full list of participating florists*

Tom Rehn, MC

Channel 9 Sports Presenter & Co-host of hello SA!

With over 12 years' experience in the media industry as an accomplished MC, sports commentator and radio presenter, Tom is our MC for today's event. Tom is a proud brand ambassador for SA Police Legacy

Chief Inspector Kellie Watkins

President of SA Police Legacy

In an interview with Tom Rehn, Kellie will share all there is to know about SA Police Legacy, her motivation for joining the board and share first hand experience on the impact SA Police Legacy has made on police and their families.

Peter Shanahan

Board director of SA Police Legacy and legatee

Peter experienced profound loss in 2020 when his much-adored wife, Chief Superintendent Joanne Shanahan, was killed in a horrific car accident. Peter is ready to share his story of grief and how the power of mindset has helped him get through the most difficult time in his life.

John Mannion, Keynote Speaker

CEO for Breakthrough Mental Health Research Foundation and former Mental Health Commissioner of SA

John will highlight the transformational difference mindset can make to your life and the power of commencing the mental health conversation.

SA Police Legacy welcomes you to our event today.

There are several ways to support us, including donating, sponsoring or purchasing from our online shop.
